Help transform billions of lives. Including yours.

Compassion in World Farming International (CIWF) is the leading charity campaigning for farm animal welfare. Our mission is to end factory farming – the biggest form of animal cruelty on the planet and the issue at the centre of many of the world’s biggest challenges including climate change, the collapse of nature, and the threat of future pandemics.

CIWF leads a growing worldwide movement of people concerned about how factory farming causes cruelty to animals, wastes precious resources, and utterly fails to meet the needs of the planet’s inhabitants. Our strategy focuses on mobilising a movement to deliver key legislative reforms for animals. We also have our sights firmly set on achieving progress globally, not least through a UN global agreement to transform food systems away from industrial agriculture and meat-heavy diets.

This is an immensely exciting time for our issue, our organisation and our movement, as we seek our next Global Director of Campaigns and Policy Advocacy.

We are seeking an ambitious and passionate leader, who shares our vision of a world without factory farming and much less reliance on livestock products. You will be naturally pragmatic and be a natural leader when it comes to driving change. We seek someone who can lead a team of dedicated people and develop our reach and influence. This is an outstanding opportunity for someone who connects with our values and wants to make a lasting impact on animals, people, and the planet.

The ideal candidate will be a proven campaigner with a flair for public campaigns as well as policy lobbying and advocacy, with a strong understanding of political decision-making processes. This will most likely be in animal welfare or conservation, however, we welcome applications of interest outside these spheres. Whilst technically based at our HQ in Godalming, Surrey, UK, we are open to considering flexible working options, including home/office agile working.

CIWF is committed to providing equal opportunities for everyone, regardless of their background. We value diversity and lived experience, and acknowledge the under representation of people from certain backgrounds, both within our organisation and across the sector. We welcome applications from underrepresented groups, whether these be of ethnicity, gender, identity, religion, physical ability, sexual orientation, or other.
